

WWII tour

A tour of Prague's darkest days: the terror of Nazi occupation and the fight to rid this city of the invaders. Prague was the key to Hitler's plans for world domination.

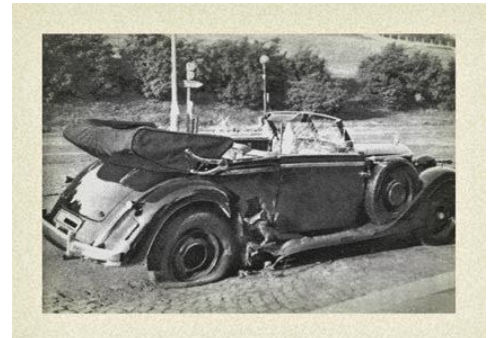

Threatened with total obliteration, betrayed by the British and French, the Czech people took matters into their own hands.

Revisit the battleground of the Old Town, witness the power of Nazi propaganda. Explore the last hideout of Prague resistance beneath the city and see previously hidden documentary evidence... Meet the few brave men, flown in from Britain to assassinate the Nazi „Butcher of Prague“, the most dangerous man of the third reich (empire) and the architect of the final solution to the Jewish question, Reinhard

Heydrich.

Visit some of Prague's streets that were marched by German military parades during the occupation. Learn astonishing facts about the spy game of the British secret service and the Czech resistance.

Discover the breathtaking details of the Prague Assassination of the head of Nazi SS and SD forces, Reinhard Heydrich.

Motto

Last words of the parachutists:

"We will not surrender. Never. We are Czech."

An authentic site of a significant World War II battle in Prague, in a long time concealed shelter, which was provided by Czech Orthodox church to Czechoslovakian parachutists from 27.5.1942 - 18.6.1942 after Reinhard Heydrich's assassination. The military operation against Heydrich called "Anthropoid" was waged by Czechoslovakian exile government in London and belongs to "the most important acts of resistance in European sense" (V. Havel, 1992).

The mission of the Memorial:

is primarily to provide truthful interpretation of the Heydrich's terror epoch and emphasis of the testimony to reverence and admiration to the soldiers and participants of the non-communist resistance, emphasis of the testimony to their voluntarily and even involuntarily sacrifice for freedom of the Czechoslovakian Republic in the time of Nazi occupation (1938 - 45).

The Memorial consists of:

- The Czech Orthodox cathedral of saints Cyril and Methodius
- The Crypt under the cathedral - sacred place
- Permanent exhibition in the hall
- Lecture hall and videoroom
